

Ankylosing Spondylitis Benefits from Cox® Decompression Adjusting

This case is sent to me from West Virginia by Dr. Poulin. It is ankylosing spondylitis of the spine which was relieved of pain with long y axis decompression adjusting of the spine. High velocity, low amplitude adjusting is not tolerated by these patients, and long y axis Cox decompression is welcome relief.

Respectfully submitted,

James M Cox DC DACBR

www.coxtechnic.com

Cox®
Technic